DAKOTA'S EXPERIMENT

The farmers of North Dakota are now finding out what their adventure in socialism has cost them, and will continue to cost them, as long as it is continued. They have undertaken to perform on a community basis services hitherto rendered by private interests, or so-called middlemen, and are paying their taxes accordingly.

The farmers of that state have been led to believe that they were being robbed by the so-called middlemen and that if they operated their grain elevators and warehouses themselves, to say nothing of other utilities, they would be able to secure these profits for the state. They therefore embarked upon a plan of State socialism with the greatest enthusiasm. Now the bills are coming in, and the story reads different. Taxes are doubled and trebled, and while it may be possible for farmers to store their wheat at lower prices than under private management, which is questionable, the profits from the operation of these utilities, which were supposed to reduce taxation, have not only been so insignificant that they have fallen far short of their expectations in that respect, but the cost of construction and operation have added a burden which the farmers' never contemplated.

Mr. Floyd R. Todd, manufacturer of agricultural machinery, in an address to the Agricultural Publishers' Association in New York a short time ago, presented some rather startling figures by way of comparison, based upon the actual tax bills in his possession.

In Barnes county in that State, the figures show an increase in taxation between 200 and 300 per cent. This is really news to the farmers of North Dakota, who have not yet received their tax bills, who will be quite likely to take an entirely different view of matters when they find what they are up against. It will undoubtedly spell the doom of the Non-Partisan League. Papers commenting on the experiment at the time it was undertaken declared that perhaps it would be just as well to let them try it and take the consequences, in as much as it would be a splendid object lesson for the other States. The fact is that a propaganda is being conducted at this very moment to introduce this socialistic theory into all farming communities.

Minnesota is the State most likely to follow the lead of North Dakota, as matters now appear, and the farm journals of the country can perform a substantial service if they will educate the farmers of the country to regard socialism as the menace that and by way of concrete example to point out what is already happening in North Dakota.

A MAIN FACT

Out of the confusion of the treaty situation, and the tressome incidents of strategic or tactical controversy, and the contest of honest opinion as to what reservations are sufficient to safeguard American independence of alien supergovernment, one fact—perhaps only one—stands at this moment clearly forth: says the Sun and New York Herald and that is that American independence of foreign supergovernment has been safeguarded. It is safe.

What future action may be taken by the President is not known to the general public, but the people are satisfied that at least for the present session of the Senate no further action will be taken, and that the people will have an opportunity to pass in judgment on the instrument. And we believe that when the people thoroughly understand the pact that it will be overwhelmingly rejected.

ROOSEVELT SAW THROUGH 'EM

There was once a pretty widespread impression that President Roosevelt was rather pleased to note comparisons made between him and the former Kaiser as to their supposed resemblances and that the former Kaiser with amused condescension was disposed to permit such comparisons to be made. In view of this it is interesting to come across evidence that Mr. Roosevelt "saw through" the former Kaiser as well as the aspiring German warlords and people. In Thayer's life of John Hay for example, it is related that Secretary Hay and President Roosevelt laughed themselves into tears over the persistence of the German Ambassador in inquiring what Mr. Roosevelt thought of a medal pompously bestowed upon him by order of the Ambassador's "imperial master"—a medal, explained Mr. Hay, "that you could buy anywhere for thirty cents."

In the current Scribner's appears a letter written by Mr. Roosevelt in 1911 dealing with his visit to Germany, in which he reveals an understanding both of the Kaiser's egotism and of the menace of German ambitions to the peace of the world. Mr. Roosevelt writes that in matters of "international morality" he and the Kaiser were "completely asunder," and that such international morality as the German diplomats believed in was that of "one pirate among his fellow pirates." He saw that Germany had "the arrogance of a very strong power as yet almost untouched by the feeble aspiration toward international equity which one or two other strong powers, notably England and America, do at least begin to feel." Mr. Roosevelt perceived America was not liked by emperor, warlords, the middle class, or even by the Socialists, and he seized upon the Kaiser as not only a bully but one who bluffs and is apt to back down.

Congressman Edward C. Little of Kansas has introduced a resolution "instructing the Attorney General to institute proceedings against certain corporations restraining them from distributing surplus war profits." The resolution was drafted by the Private Soldiers' and Sailors' Legion and presented by Mr. Little at their request. The intent of the movement is to take such undivided war profits and turn them into a fund to pay soldier bonuses.

Resolutions of Respect

In Memory of Sister Mary Reffner
So let her sleep that dreamless sleep
Our sorrows clustering round her head
Be comforted, ye loved who weep,
She lives with Good, she is not dead.
Once again Death hath summoned a sister and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome her to her home. She has completed her work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery and as her reward has received the plaudits "Well done" from the Grand Sovereign Protector and Whereas, the All-Wise and Merciful Father has called our beloved and respected sister home and, Whereas, she having been a true and faithful member of our Sisterhood, therefore be it
Resolved, That Northern Star Sisterhood No. 107 Dames of Malta of Charleroi, Pa., in testimony of her loss, tenders to the family of the deceased sister our sincere condolences in this deep affliction.

THE TERRORS OF RHEUMATISM NOW A THING OF THE PAST

Yes—we mean every word of this. Every sufferer of rheumatism, neuritis, lumbago or neuralgia and even sciatica can now get blessed relief without taking a drop of medicine—and never have any fear of experiencing such excruciating pains again.

Read the following unsolicited testimonial: "I believe your SULFURID treatment should be known by everybody. Today I am altogether a new man after two weeks' treatment of SULFURID. Believe me, it is the best treatment I ever used and I have used quite a few in the past year. Doctors here gave me up, but today, after two weeks of your SULFURID treatment, I am feeling great. When I first wrote you I couldn't get out of bed and from the day I was improving I think I may be back to work soon. That's what your wonderful SULFURID treatment has done for me. EDWARD JAMES MILLER, 21 E. 4th St., Chester, Pa."

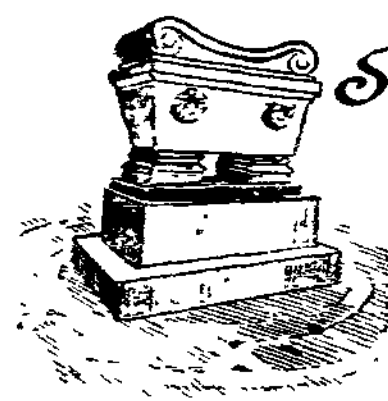

SULFURID is one of the greatest chemical discoveries of modern times. It is not a patent medicine. It is a harmless sulphur solution, used as a bath. It is identical to the same treatment given to those who go to the Hot Sulphur Springs, and gives precisely the same results. So positive are the results following the use of this unique treatment, that we guarantee relief in every case, no matter how chronic or acute it may be, or refund your money. Let us tell you more about SULFURID. Booklet free.

BOTH SIDES AGREE TO SCALE

There will be no suspension of work at the coal mines in the central competitive district after the first of April. There may be a few days' idleness due to the various celebrations to be held throughout the country in honor of the eight-hour day but next Monday should find every mine working as usual.

This decision was reached by the miners' representatives now in New York who are attending the conference with the operators to confer on a new wage scale. The miners' representatives voted to accept the award made by the Bituminous Coal Commission, and the operators took similar action, thus eliminating any controversy on the point of keeping the mines in operation pending the working out of details with reference to the new wage scale.

All the local Unions of mine workers in the central competitive district will be notified immediately by telegraph of the acceptance of the award, John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, announced.

By the terms of the new wage agreement the miners are given an increase of 27 per cent. Included in this increase, however, is the 14 per cent increase given by Mr. Garfield last fall, thus making the net increase over present wages of 13 per cent. It is estimated that this increase will add $95,000,000 per year to the cost of coal over and above the amount allotted last fall. The total increase in wage cost is given at $200,000,000.

The award directs that the increase be apportioned between the different groups of workers and classes of work as follows: Tonnage rate, pick and machine, to be increased by 24 per cent; rates for all yardage and dead work, narrow work and room turning to be advanced 20 per cent; and compensation of day wage men to be advanced 20 per cent.

PIONEER RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

Alexander Collins, a pioneer resident of this section of the Monongahela valley, died last Sunday afternoon at his home on Victory Hill, Carroll township, in the 93rd year of his age. He was born in Scotland, May 29, 1827 and came to this country when he was a boy. He was married to Miss Mary Neely of Sewickley, July 4, 1854, and to this union seventeen children were born, nine of whom are still living. Sixteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Collins celebrated their golden wedding at Elkhorn.

Although advanced in years Mr. Collins was a very active man, and last year worked his own garden. He had been ill in bed for the past two weeks. He is survived by his wife and nine children, 55 grandchildren and 58 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held this afternoon with interment in Monongahela cemetery.

DONORA TO INSIST ON EARLY ACTION

Citizens of Donora are not satisfied with the non-action of the county commissioners with regard to improving roads that are vital to the welfare of Donora and other towns in the valley. On Thursday it was decided to be of paramount interest that the commissioners act to bring about the improvement of the road from Charleroi to Monongahela. It is the intention of the D. C. S. to see that the whole matter is brought to the attention of the commissioners in such a way that some action may be taken within a very short time. More than that, the location of the Monongahela Valley Country Club on this highway which is a State proposition, will lend additional weight to any and all claims that may be made with reference to this road and its improvement.

COMPANY GIVEN RIGHT TO RECOVER

Upon petition the Washington county courts has ordered that the receivers of the Pittsburgh Railways company shall be entitled to recover the amount of compensation paid him in the suit of George A. Wiggins against the Auto Transfer Coal company of Washington.

Wiggins a motorman for the Pittsburgh Railways company, was injured on the morning of October 4, 1919 when his car struck a truck of the Auto Transfer Coal company which had been allowed to stop on the tracks of the street car company. It seems that the truck displayed no lights and Wiggins did not see it until his car struck it. The accident occurred before daylight.

Wiggins was badly injured and was unable to work for several weeks. The petition of the Pittsburgh Railways company sets forth that that company paid him compensation amounting to $122.86 and hospital bills to the amount of $53.60, which payments were made on January 24, 1920.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stephenson of McKeesport, former residents of Charleroi, were visiting with friends in town over Sunday.

Many Communities Will Protest Against Adding To Tolls

LOCAL ATTITUDE NOT STATED

It is likely that a number of communities throughout the State will ask the Public Service Commission for a hearing before the proposed new rates recently announced by the Bell Telephone Company are allowed to go into effect. Already quite a number have filed protests, and it has been suggested by some of our citizens that Charleroi join in this move in order to assist in presenting a stronger case to the Commission.

Donora is preparing to take such a step, and its Community Service will be notified by the legal department of Pittsburgh as to what action that city will take. A study is being made of the proposed increase of rates with a view of preparing a protest case to be filed at Harrisburg some time next month.

Washington, Pa., is also preparing to take some steps to make a protest against the proposed increase of rates. A special meeting of the borough council has been called for this evening by President John F. Curran and efforts will be made to have every member of the councilmanic body present to take part in the deliberations.

The city of New Castle has already filed a formal protest with the Public Service Commission against the new schedule of rates, making the claim that the increased rates are excessive and burdensome and that from reports of the company shows that it has sufficient revenue to pay a fair return on the investment.

When the telephone lines were taken over in November, 1918, the company announced an increase in rates, but they were not allowed to be charged. Now the Bell Company wishes to make an increase in rates about the same as that proposed in the fall of 1918.

Whether Charleroi will take any part in any campaign against the rates has not yet been determined.

LEGION TO HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICE

The American Legion Post of Donora is arranging to hold a memorial service at the Grand Theatre in that borough on Sunday, April 11th. At a special meeting of the Post held last week it was announced that Col. Thompson, Col. Martin and Chaplain Schall, all of the 110th, would be present to make addresses. A splendid program is being prepared, in which the ministers of the town will have a part, while music will be furnished by the Kinder quartette and others.
